Identifying herself as "one of the few native Kansas Citians," Lois Cook, journalism and English III teacher, is the word-minded advisor of RAYFLECTOR.

A journalism graduate of the University of Missouri, Mrs. Cook has also been a copy writer for an advertising agency. When her children were pre-school age, she combined homemaking with free-lance writing. She has sold radio commercials, short stories, and features. As a contest fan, she won a new car, first prize in a 1951 writing competition.

Red tape and stiff competition are the only obstacles standing between Japan and Jim Miller and his family. Mr. Miller would like to go to Japan in the next few years to teach American children in our military installations there. Also, the trip would allow Mrs. Miller, who is from Japan, to see her parents again. Upon the termination of a term in Japan, Mr. Miller would like to resume teaching in Raytown.

Bacon strips for book marks! That is a standard joke among librarians, says Mary Helen Turner. She hasn't found a strip of bacon yet, but books have been turned in with hairpins, canceled checks, and girls' love notes left in them. Those love notes were the most interesting.

Mrs. Turner served as librarian at Windsor and Liberty before coming here. After three years here, she is sure that Raytown High and its students are by far the nicest.

Whether it's Latin, Spanish or English, Mrs. Fegert likes to teach it. Since Ruth Fegert came to Raytown several years ago, her duties have been many. She has taught those three languages, sponsored the Spanish Club, and until two years ago, was the Latin Club sponsor.

On the second of her two trips to Mexico, Mrs. Fegert took several of her Spanish II students. Her future travel plans include another trip to Mexico, and venturing a little further, a trip to Rome.

For eighteen years, Milton Cochran has watched Raytown High School grow. In his first year here, he taught three shop classes, a physics class and a study hall. Five mechanical drawing classes occupied his time this year. Mr. Cochran, together with the other members of the department, inaugurated the junior high shop programs.

The Ford Motor Company presented Mr. Cochran with an Award of Merit in connection with their nationwide contest in which C. A. Askew, class of '59, won fourth place.

The fifty-four representatives or alternates of the Student Council met twice each month to plan student activities and to promote student-faculty co-operation. To acquaint the student body with the workings of the Council, the minutes of each meeting were read over the intercom.

In addition to bringing a Foreign Exchange Student to Raytown for next year, plans were made to send a Raytown student abroad.

A Safety Committee was appointed with Klaus Gottschalk as chairman to study traffic accidents and teen-age driving habits.

The Council sponsored the appearance of Raytown students on KMBC TV's "Heart of America Bandstand."

Phyllis Warren and Dan Titus win sweaters on Bandstand.

Art Club Decorated For Seasonal Occasions

Trudi Rogers, Nancy Jacks, and Carolyn Barker add Christmas cheer to Mr. Hanks' office.

Brush and Pallet Club members decorated the school cafeteria for each holiday season this year. They prepared the decorations at regular work sessions. All members are second year art students who excel in this type of work. They took some time out to enjoy their Christmas party and spring picnic.

Library Club Staffs School Library

The Library Club promotes reading among the student body through the use of a bulletin board which advertises the new books as they arrive. Members work in the library before and after school and during the day. In this manner they earn points toward a school letter which is given at the end of each year. To help students use the library to the best advantage is one of their goals.

Returning books to the shelves are Charlotte Tyson, Barbara Bennett, and Miss Oberzan.

Stage Crew Sets The Scene

Considerable work and effort went into designing and making the sets used in the four RHS dramatic productions this year. The Stage Crew provided the sets, sound effects and lighting for each one.

Fifteen members were chosen for their general knowledge of stage lore and for special abilities. A few designed the sets and did the art work. Others handled the electrical end of lighting problems, and all did the necessary carpentering and painting.

The Stage Fascinates Drama Club

The cast of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" as the play drew to a surprise ending.

Participating in four productions this year kept the Drama Club busy. In a formal installation ceremony, one of which is held after each production, new members who had worked on at least one play, were installed. The Club had no regular meeting but members spent many hours after school during the year working on the current play. In the spring, an annual banquet was held to award Oscars to the outstanding performers. The Drama Club is a member of the American Educational Theater Association.

The Spanish Club chose to call itself "Los Conquistadores" or "The Conquerors" this year. In striving to further understanding between Americans and people of other nationalities, students found pen-pals in countries around the globe. Two members, Janice Lovelace and Mary Eleanor Zachman, were candidates for the Foreign Exchange Program. The Christmas customs of Spanish-speaking countries were adopted during the Christmas season in the classroom and at the club's Christmas party. Thus the club formed a basis for international friendship and understanding.

Latin Club Attends Regional Convention

At the regional convention of the Junior Classical League, held at Southeast High School, the Raytown Latin Club presented a skit entitled, "Camilius and the Schoolmaster." The "Ave Maria," a prayer in Latin, was sung by Kathy McCarthy at one of the club's regular meetings. As a fund raising project, members sold Blue Jay book-covers. The money they raised was used for club activities such as the adoption of a needy family at Christmas time and for various other projects. Halloween and Christmas parties and a school-end picnic in May filled the club's social program.

Le Circle Francais presented the students of the French language with an opportunity to use their newly acquired tongue. The programs were usually conducted in French by the students. They turned to Paris and France in general for inspiration. One program featured slides of Paris scenery. The theme of the Christmas party was "A Province in France." Buche de Noel, a tasty French pastry, was served.

This spring, representatives from other Kansas City clubs came to Raytown to exchange ideas for new activities.

First of many events of F.H.A. this year was an impressive installation of officers by the Grandview chapter. The installation stressed the union of the home, school, and community. Money-making projects this year included a candy and card sale during the Christmas season, and the annual F.H.A. dance, January 9. In February, during Missouri Home Economics Week, the group sponsored a tea for the faculty. The motto of the club is: "Tell and sell home economics."

The first in the line of events for F.T.A. members came with the installation of their new officers. In following their proposed careers, they visited a school for retarded children and gave a party for them as their Valentine's project. During National Education Week, they served coffee and cookies to the faculty members. The program included speakers from the teaching profession representing the elementary, high school, and college levels. The Raytown Chapter of F.T.A. gained recognition at the annual state convention when two of its members were elected to state offices. Jo Edwards was chosen state president and Beverly Wilson became secretary for 1959 and 1960.

Year-Round Program Enjoyed By Science Club Members

As school opened this year, the Science Club initiated new recruits and began its winter program. They worked on Science Fair projects and heard guest speakers on such subjects as Archaeology, Grapho-Analysis, and Psychology. They took in the various scientific exhibits at the Science Fairs at Kansas and Missouri Universities and also at William Jewell College.

When school ends, Science Club members will continue to meet. Members will tour industrial laboratories and libraries and take a few field trips. These field trips include cave-exploring, a visit to archaeological diggings, and just plain picnics.

Demonstrating their knowledge of the Greek alphabet at initiation are Margaret Mehl, Marsha Talbott, and Kathy Withee.

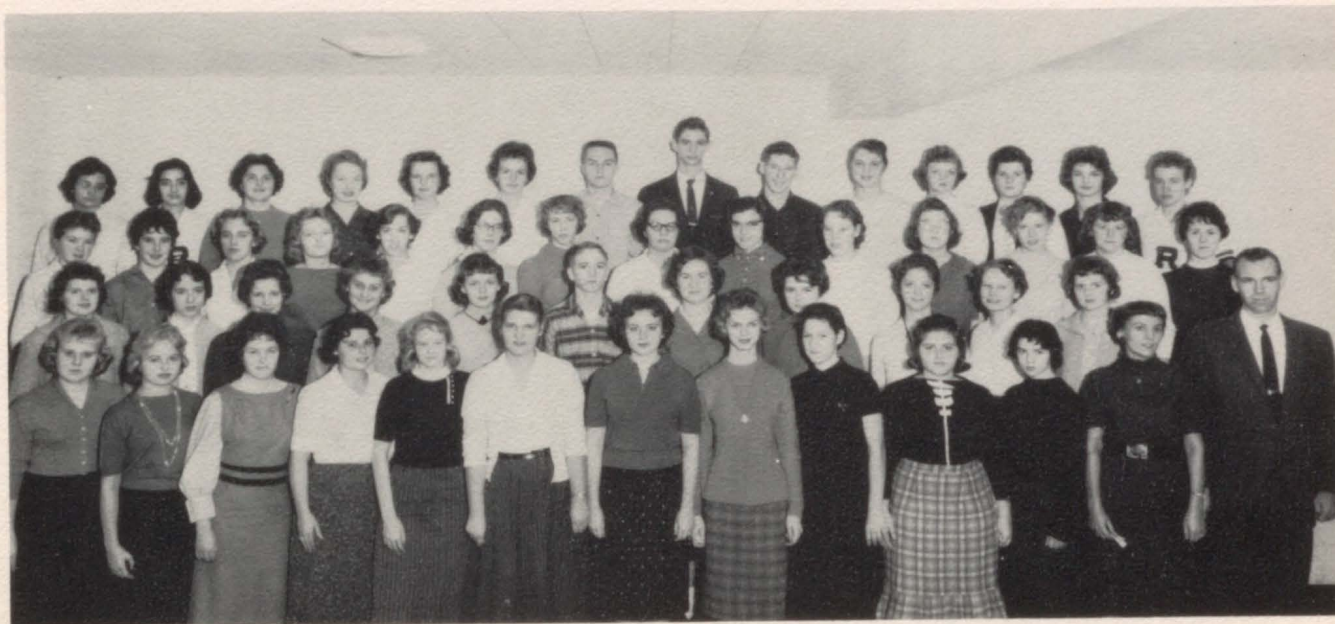

These girls worked as candy strippers last summer in Kansas City hospitals. They are Della Seay, Pat Ross, Sandra Sanders, Karen Plank, Kaaren Mickelson, Carol Church, and Sherry Bragg.

The co-educational Medical Club grew out of the Future Nurse's Club and quickly became a part of the school's club program. Some of the members worked at area hospitals during the summer vacation as candy strippers. At Christmas time, they adopted two families, one having nine children and the other four, and sent them Christmas trees, toys, and canned food. During the year they sold scratch pads as a money-raising project and had a Halloween party at the Ridgeview Country Club.

As an independent organization, the Teen Town Council provided after game dancing fun for our high school students. The parents of the members worked with them in supervising the dances. The group made their facilities available to other clubs, letting them plan the activities and take the profits. Teen Town Council met every two weeks to discuss successful operation of the parties.

Teen Town Council meets to plan next dance.

Rayflector Reflects School Life

The Rayflector Staff prepares the page dummies.

"Make that a 30-point head! Give the bond drive a 2-column lead. Where's the Spotlight cut?"

Such is the shop talk heard in Room 217, headquarters for Rayflector, the school newspaper. Twenty-four deadline-driven members of the journalism class gathered news, wrote, edited, proofread, and "made-up" page dummies for sixteen issues of the paper during the 1959-60 school year.

Headed by editor Paul Payne, the Rayflector, a member of Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for high school journalists, published school news, promoted worthy projects and activities, and looked on the lighter side, too, with features aimed toward entertainment and fun.

Throughout the year, free-lance photographers Jim Roach and Doug Hall lent their time, talent, and cameras to the staff's pictorial needs.

Journalism students are chosen from candidates recommended by teachers in the English department. Mrs. Lois Cook is the journalism instructor.

Planning activities for the Y-Teens are Sharon Ashby, Marilyn Hill, Barbara Wessel, Merry Moore, and Dorothy Vaught.

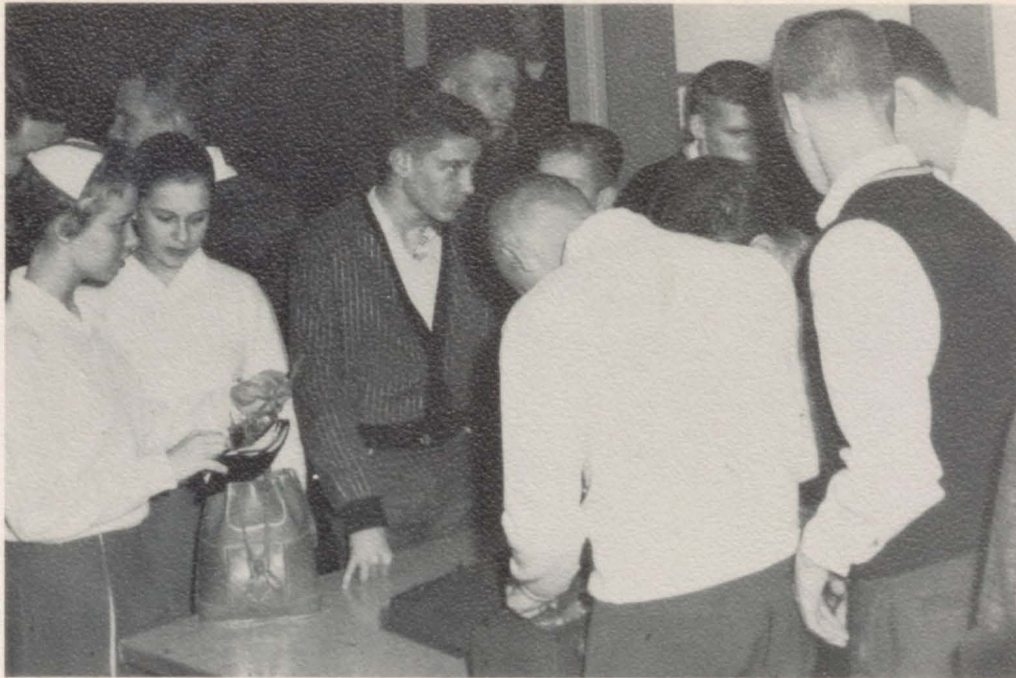

One result of the freshman class remaining at the Junior High Schools was the consolidation of the two Y-Teens Organizations into one group this year. Senior and junior groups worked together and shared their activities at the bi-monthly meetings. To raise money during the year, the girls sold stationery. Their club meetings included such programs as a speaker on hairstyling, a lesson in how to do the hula given by Sandy Weinburg, and, at Christmas-time they learned the fine art of gift-wrapping. In March the club sponsored a movie and the regular Y-Teens dance was held in April.

R-Club sells pop and candy bars to basketball fans.

"Hold that rope" was often the cry at the basketball games when the R-Club set out to protect the gym floor. They were also busy operating the concession stand. To keep the football team's muscles toned up during the winter, the boys shoveled snow as a courtesy to some of the townspeople who had helped the athletic program. An interesting initiation was held for new members. Each was to collect $5.00 in pennies and could not talk to a girl during this time. To be eligible for membership, the boys must have earned a letter in one of the major sports.

Scholastic Achievement Honored

Members of the National Honor Society were chosen from the Junior and Senior classes for Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. Only 10% of the Junior class and 15% of the Senior class were elected to full membership. These students had maintained an S average throughout their high school career and were selected by a faculty committee.

In Songs and Cheers

Pep Squad Majorette, Pat Murray.

Just "plain old-fashioned spirit" was the keynote of the Raytown Pep Squad. In addition to providing the teams with that extra push towards victory, their drill team performed at the homecoming games. Funds were supplemented with a unique project of selling light bulbs. The Pep Squad introduced the new "Blue Jay Fight Song" which was written for them by Mr. Lewis. In the spring the pep squad held their annual dance and crowned their queen.

Part of School Life

The high school band played an integral part in the life of our school. During the football season they were on hand to play the salute to the flag and the school song before each home game. They drilled and played for half time entertainment and furnished background music at the homecoming ceremonies. The band was featured at a student assembly and presented a section of the program at the spring and winter concerts. Under the direction of Mr. Carroll Lewis, who was new to the Raytown system this year, the band added several jazz numbers to their concert program.

All work and no play makes for a dull time and the band had their fun with a picnic in the fall when all new members were properly initiated. They ended the year with their annual spring banquet.

BIRTHE JACOB

Foreign Exchange Student from Bremen, Germany.

Birthe receives scroll of names from Dan Titus at Foreign Exchange Assembly.

Differences As Birthe Sees Them

"Nearly everything is different here. It begins with different homes--German houses very often are duplexes or apartments--and the standard of living--you are much better off in general. Teachers are pretty well-paid, but my family at home does not have a TV, a washing machine, a car or a home of its own.

"Our school system is very different too. Children start to school at the age of six. After the fourth grade they can enter an examination for a secondary school or a high school. A secondary school has six more grades; a high school has nine. After the thirteenth grade we have a great examination and it is necessary to pass it to be able to attend the University.

"Our classes are organized quite differently. The fifth graders are divided into several classes of about 30-40 pupils, and these classes stay together all the time till the thirteenth grade. Because they all have the same subjects they have them at the same time. After some years, each class is a real community so we do not need special clubs.

"What do I think about the American people? I find that people are very optimistic and very, very kind here. The hearty welcome and blind acceptance I found here touched me deeply--we are more conservative, you know. We usually examine a person thoroughly before we accept him.

"You can't imagine how much fun it is to have a new experience every day, to meet a new nice person every day and to live with a wonderful family in a wonderful community. I am happy, grateful and proud to be here."

KAY HARRIS

MARY ELEANOR ZACHMAN

Chance For Foreign Exchange Student From Raytown

As we went to press, the American Field Service had chosen these two girls as possible exchange students. The New York office had not as yet notified us as to their decision.

Both girls were juniors. Kay Harris was a second-year French student, while Mary Eleanor Zachman was taking second-year Spanish. Their applications were chosen with two others from among fifteen students here at Raytown. New York eliminated two of the four candidates whose applications were submitted to them.

Two years of a foreign language and a good scholastic standing were pre-requisites for consideration. The girls submitted two six-hundred-word compositions and filled out a difficult form in quadruplicate.

They don't know where they would be sent if they were chosen. Any one of the twenty-two European nations participating in the program is a possible destination for the language studied is not always the deciding factor.

Jays Undefeated

After starting the season with a 27-0 victory over Northeast, the Raytown Blue Jays continued their success by defeating Southeast for the first time since 1955, by a score of 19-0. The Chrisman Bears, first to score against the Blue Jays this season, were overrun 18-7. Traveling to Springfield, Raytown defeated the Bulldogs 14-0 in the rain and mud. Home again, the Blue Jays stood off the effort of De La Salle, outscoring them 19-12. Raytown's 13th consecutive victory came before the homecoming crowd, when the Joplin Eagles were crushed 41-13. However, the winning streak came to an end as

Until Final Game

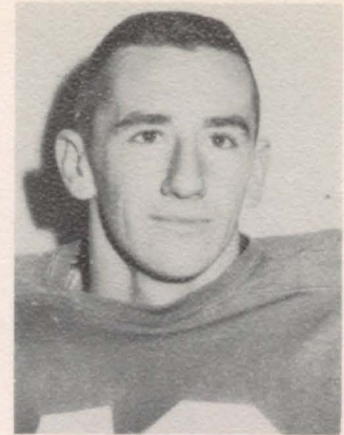

Rockhurst's second half comeback brought the game to a 19-19 tie. At St. Joseph, the Blue Jays went into full swing again, ruining the Christian Brothers' homecoming, 34-7. Returning home, the Jays played Fayetteville, Arkansas for the first time, defeating them in 20-degree weather, 6-0. In the final game of the season, the Jays fought desperately in the last quarter, only to have the tying conversion and the winning touchdown nullified by penalties. Thus ended what could have been the first undefeated team under Coach Chittwood, as the North Kansas City Hornets edged the Raytown Blue Jays 13-12.

Finish Regular Season 18-4

The Raytown Blue Jays opened the 1960 basketball season by defeating Blue Springs, Westport, and Liberty, to win the William Jewell tournament. Later in the season, the Blue Jays won their own tournament when they defeated Grandview and Lincoln. They placed second in the Blue Springs tournament, with wins over Blue Springs and Fort Osage and a loss to Liberty, by two points in overtime.

During the regular season, the Blue Jays maintained an 18-4 record. Outscoring East in the first home game, Raytown played their next four consecutive games away, defeating Springfield, Excelsior Springs, and Central; but losing to Hogan. The Blue Jays next won over Shawnee North at home and then defeated Blue Springs there. Returning home again, they lost to North Kansas City, and beat Southwest. The Jays won the homecoming game over Southeast, and defeated Clinton there. They closed the regular season with a one point loss to William Chrisman.

When the Ramizzou went to press, the regionals remained to be played.

Memoriam

As narrower grows the earthly chain,
The circle widens in the sky;
These are our treasures that remain,
But those are stars that beam on high.

ROGER J. DALDRUP

SENIORS '60

It is with mixed emotions that I approach the close of school. Our relationship has been so pleasant that I am reluctant to see it end; however, I am anxious that you get started on the plans that you have made for the future. Many pleasant memories of the past years will remain with me from now on and most of these memories will include you. With a great deal of pride I recommend this class to the world. I can think of no greater compliment to give to the class than to wish that my children grow up to be fine young men and women such as you.

Roger J. Daldrup

MR. DALDRUP:

You have given us so many wonderful memories to carry with us through the years--the class meetings in the auditorium--the paper drives throughout our junior year--the world history classes you taught--the challenges we faced together throughout high school--and now, our Senior year. You have given us much-needed guidance after many long hours of advising and suggesting in your office--the excitement of the day we ordered our announcements, cards, and caps and gowns, knowing that the awaited moment was coming soon in May.

The next years may find us gaining a higher education, performing service to our country, working at a career, or getting married; but wherever our different paths lead us, we will never forget the warmth, guidance, and kindness you have given us.

When graduation comes we must say so long, but not good-bye; for good-bye would mean to say farewell. With us it will never be a farewell, Mr. Daldrup, for we will always hold you and all these memories high within our hearts.

This school year holds many memories for us at Raytown: football games on cool, crisp nights; the moment of expectancy before the curtain opens on our stage; the tingling air of excitement during a basketball game; the bubbling feeling inside when we know we're going to the prom; the feeling of nostalgia while wandering down the empty halls at the close of the year.

The year has brought new developments in school affairs. For the first time we have had a foreign exchange student, Birthe Jacob. A new high school has been proposed and will be built in the near future.

A quarter of a century from now when you look back through this book you will chuckle at the sneakers, French rolls, and flat-tops which were the "coolest" in 1959-1960.

All these moments we have tried to capture for you in pictures and in print. We, the Ramizzou Staff of 1959-1960, proudly present this annual to you.
